

Clinics in Dermatology

CONTENTS

Commentary Mauricio Gohman-Yahr and Lawrence Charles Parish	1
The inevitability of change Rokea A. el-Azhary	4
Conceptual issues in dermatology and medicine: Where do nonphysician practitioners rightfully belong—a dermatologist’s perspective William Abramovits	12
Pharmaceutical companies and medical practitioners or “the beast and the beauty”? Luis Villalba	16
The CILAD, a model of an international dermatologic society, united by geographic, linguistic, and cultural nexus Ricardo Pérez Alfonzo, Manuel del Solar, and Carlos F. Gatti	21
Travel as a teaching and learning tool Anthony V. Benedetto	29
Imaging the unimaginable: Medical imaging in the realm of photography Fabian Michelangeli	38
Returning: Thoughts about the editorial and publication processes in dermatology and medicine Mauricio Gohman-Yahr	47
Open access medical journals: Benefits and challenges Jenny Z. Wang, Aunna Pourang, and Barbara Burrall	52
Organize to serve: An ecclesiastical approach to medicine and dermatology Mauricio Gohman-Yahr	56
The importance of the history of dermatology: An American viewpoint Lawrence Charles Parish	60

Contents Cont'd

CONTEMPORARY DERMATOLOGY

Contemporary Dermatology	71
Book Review
Facial Reconstruction After Mohs Surgery Priyanka Patel, and Artem Sergeyenko	72
Dermatologic Disquisitions and Other Essays
“But doctor, I googled it!”: The “three Rs” of managing patients in the age of information overload Shankar N. Mundluru, Katherine Werbaneth, Kate E. Therkelsen, Allison R. Larson, and Veronica E. Santini	74
Comment and Controversy
Business administration training for dermatology residents: Preparing for the business of medicine Jordan V. Wang, Christian A. Alborno, and Ezra Hazan, Matthew Keller, and Nazanin Saedi	78
Congress Report
Thirteenth World Congress of the International Academy of Cosmetic Dermatology (IACD), Dubrovnik, Croatia, June 28 to July 1, 2018 Vesna Petronic-Rosic	80
IACD Officers	I
Dermatology Around the World	II
IACD Membership Application	IV