

Contents lists available at ScienceDirect

Journal of Radiology Nursing

journal homepage: www.sciencedirect.com/journal/journal-of-radiology-nursing

Editorial

A New Year

Kathleen A. Gross, MSN, BS, RN-BC, CRN

A new year for the Journal of Radiology Nursing (JRN) is underway, and there have been changes.

Have you noticed? JRN has a new website <https://www.sciencedirect.com/journal/journal-of-radiology-nursing>.

Elsevier has introduced the Researcher Academy, which provides mentoring for authors. See <https://researcheracademy.elsevier.com/learn> for more information. Please note that you do not need to be involved in publishing research to benefit from this information.

I would like to welcome the following new editorial board members: Stacy M.

Stellflug, PhD, APRN, FNP-BC; Lois E. Stewart, PhD, CRNA; and Michael C. Talmadge, CHP, DABR. Their expertise will be valuable to the journal's growth.

In the September 2018 issue of this journal (Gross, 2018), I wrote about the federal funding cut for the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality and the closing of the National Guideline Clearinghouse™. The good news for health-care professionals is that on November 19, 2018, the ECRI Guidelines Trust (2018)™ was announced. Clinical practice guidelines can be accessed at this site by the public for free; see www.ecri.org/guidelines. I also want to draw your attention to the ECRI Institute 2019 Health Technology Hazards published just after this editorial.

Do you have something to say? Do you agree or disagree with an editorial or article's reporting. Get involved; write a letter to the Editor. JRN values your feedback. You should address your letter to kathleen.gross@arinursing.org.

Every issue of the journal involves so many people. To the authors who submit manuscripts, I truly appreciate your time and effort in advancing radiology nursing literature. To the peer reviewers who spend hours evaluating and writing comments to improve the manuscripts, I owe many thanks. In addition to the JRN Editorial Board members who review articles, I would also like to thank the following individuals who donated their time: Asamoah Bosomtwi, PhD; Donnette Dabydeen, MD; Terry Emerson, MSN, RN, CNOR; Florian Fintelmann, MD; Suvranu Ganguli, MD; Tenley Hansberger Johnson, BSN, RN, CCRN, CRN; Greg Laukhuf, ND, RN-BC, NE-BC, CRN; Loralie Ma, MD; Colin McCarthy, MD; Daniel Rosenthal, MD; Amita Sharma, MD; Stacy M. Stellflug, PhD, APRN, FNP-BC; Katherine Stockton, RT (R) (CT); Michael C. Talmadge, CHP, DABR; Daniel Wetzel, BS, RT(R) (CT); and Terry Wicks, DNP, CRNA, MHS. I also wish to thank the Elsevier staff who do a wonderful job at making the journal professional and to the ARIN Data Manager, Liz Boulter.

Please circulate the Call for Papers on Emergencies in Radiology: Adult and Pediatric among your peers and colleagues. The scope of authors contributing to the journal keeps expanding. Spark interest in writing a collaborative review article or case study for the journal. Writing collaboratively is a great team-building exercise and can open doors for the authors. Writing is also a great way to achieve clinical ladder advancement in nursing.

I hope that the year 2019 be an excellent one for all my colleagues. Now it is time for a "deep dive" into the journal.

References

- ECRI Institute. (2018) ECRI Institute opens access to clinical practice guidelines. Available at <https://www.ecri.org/press/ecri-institute-opens-access-to-clinical-practice-guidelines>. Accessed December 28, 2018.
- Gross, K. (2018). Editorial. Journal of Radiology Nursing, 37(3), 141-142.

Kathleen A. Gross, MSN, BS, RN-BC, CRN
Editor in Chief

E-mail address: kathleen.gross@arinursing.org.