Meet the Editorial Board Member

Michael C. Talmadge, CHP, DABR

After completing a graduate degree in Radiological Sciences and Protection from the University of Massachusetts Lowell in 2009, I began my career in health physics working first in consulting before becoming the Radiation Safety Officer at Lahey Hospital & Medical Center. In this role, I had the chance to work extensively in both radiology and radiation oncology, which allowed me to pursue and obtain board certification in both health and therapy physics eventually broadening my role to include clinical duties in radiation oncology. In 2018, I began a new role as a physicist at a Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center in Greater Boston. I have served as a board member as well as the President of the New England Chapter of the Health Physics Society and currently serve on the Radiation Protection Subcommittee for the American Association of Physicists in Medicine as well as the Certification Exam Panel for the American Board of Health Physics. I enjoy using my technical background in physics to contribute within the greater context of the medical community and welcomed the opportunity to serve on the Journal of Radiology Nursing's Editorial Board.
