Submit Your Abstract

Get recognized by the Leaders in Emergency Medicine

Abstracts Are Due May 23, 2019

The American College of Emergency Physicians' 2019 Research Forum is dedicated to the presentation of original research related to emergency medicine by investigators in clinical and basic science.

Abstract Review Process

Abstracts will be peer reviewed in a blinded manner for presentation at the 2019 Research Forum. Abstracts that are judged to be scientifically valid with important information that has potential to directly impact patient care will be scored more favorably.

Notification letters will be emailed on or before July 1, 2019. We regret that we cannot give notification by information by telephone.

Accepted Abstracts

All accepted abstracts will be presented electronically in Power Point (or equivalent) format. The top 15 abstracts will be presented during daily plenary sessions; all others will be given during themed e-poster sessions.

Awards

Presenters will be evaluated in real time by members of the ACEP Research Committee. Based on presentation quality, research methodology, and potential clinical impact, recipients of the following will be selected:

1. Best Abstract Award

2. Best Young Investigator Award

Assistant professor or instructor level within first five years of faculty appointment

3. Best Resident Research Award

4. Best Medical Student Research Award

Awards will be presented at the 2020 ACEP Research Forum.

The Emergency Medicine Foundation will also present an award to the outstanding established researcher and a special award to an outstanding young investigator.

Abstract Submission Requirements

Abstracts must meet the following submission criteria:

1. Abstracts should represent original research that has not been published in manuscript or abstract form. Case reports or subject reviews are not considered original research.
2. Abstracts submission instructions will be available on ACEP's Web site beginning in March, 2019.
Abstracts must be submitted electronically by 4:00pm Central Time, Thursday, May 23, 2019.
3. Abstracts must adhere to the Annals of Emergency Medicine format with the following subheadings: title, study objectives, methods, results, and conclusion.
4. Abstracts are limited to 3000 characters not including spaces. Accepted abstracts will be published as received; no copy editing will be performed.
5. A small table or figure will be accepted. Figures must be black and white with at least 300 dpi and counts as the 3000 character limit.
6. Authors should not be identified in any way on the page containing the abstract.

Annals of Emergency Medicine

An International Journal

Resident Editorial Board Fellowship Appointment

Description

The Resident Fellow appointment to the Editorial Board of Annals of Emergency Medicine is designed to introduce the Fellow to the peer review, editing, and publishing of medical research manuscripts. Its purpose is not only to give the Fellow experience that will enhance his/her career in academic emergency medicine and in scientific publication, but to develop skills that could lead to later participation as a peer reviewer or editor at a scientific journal. It also provides a strong resident voice at Annals to reflect the concerns of the next generation of emergency physicians.
