

Appreciation to Reviewers

With this issue, the Journal of Behavioral Health Services & Research (JBHS&R) concludes its 46th year of publication. I am very grateful to all of the authors, reviewers, and JBHS&R Editorial Board members for their exceptional contributions to this peer-reviewed publication.

Editing and publishing an academic journal is an amazingly complex endeavor that involves working with a critical mass of fascinating, highly creative, well-educated, and very productive assemblage of brilliant individuals. Certainly, the JBHS&R could not exist without the manuscript authors, the JBHS&R Editorial Board members, and the Ad Hoc External Manuscript Reviewers.

At this time, I would like to recognize and articulate my profound gratitude to the individuals who and organizations that provide support for this scholarly publishing initiative: Ms. Linda Rosenberg, Mr. Neal Cornstock, and Ms. Mary Johnson at the National Council for Behavioral Health; Dr. Mario Hernandez and Ms. Amanda Armstrong at the University of South Florida; Mr. Bill Tucker, Ms. Katherine Chabalko, Mr. Bob Darnowsky, Mr. Arene Ligo, Mr. Genesis Obero, Mr. Oliver Burvingt, Ms. Paola Yuli, and Ms. Sofia Geck at Springer Publishing; and the individual and institutional subscribers and the academic and institutional libraries who have electronic access to the JBHS&R.

This scholarly publication is committed to publishing applied services research, services delivery, and policy manuscripts in behavioral health (including alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health) services. The ability to improve the quality of the manuscripts published in the JBHS&R is largely dependent upon the strength of the double-blind peer-review process. Manuscript referees provide the JBHS&R with an immeasurable wealth of expertise and willingness to volunteer their time and energy on behalf of the JBHS&R. Therefore, I especially like to thank and express my deepest appreciation to the individuals listed below, all of whom devotedly reviewed at least one manuscript submitted to the JBHS&R during 2018–2019.
