Submit Your Abstract

Get recognized by the Leaders in Emergency Medicine

Abstracts Are Due May 23, 2019

The American College of Emergency Physicians' 2019 Research Forum is dedicated to the presentation of original research related to emergency medicine by investigators in clinical and basic science.

Abstract Review Process

Abstracts will be peer reviewed in a blinded manner for presentation at the 2019 Research Forum. Abstracts that are judged to be scientifically valid with important information that has potential to directly impact patient care will be scored more favorably.

Notification letters will be emailed on or before July 1, 2019. We regret that we cannot give notification by information by telephone.

Accepted Abstracts

All accepted abstracts will be presented electronically in Power Point (or equivalent) format. The top 15 abstracts will be presented during daily plenary sessions; all others will be given during themed e-poster sessions.

Awards

Presenters will be evaluated in real time by members of the ACEP Research Committee. Based on presentation quality, research methodology, and potential clinical impact, recipients of the following will be selected:

1. Best Abstract Award

2. Best Young Investigator Award

Assistant professor or instructor level within first five years of faculty appointment

3. Best Resident Research Award

4. Best Medical Student Research Award

Awards will be presented at the 2020 ACEP Research Forum.

The Emergency Medicine Foundation will also present an award to the outstanding established researcher and a special award to an outstanding young investigator.

Abstract Submission Requirements

Abstracts must meet the following submission criteria:

1. Abstracts should represent original research that has not been published in manuscript or abstract form. Case reports or subject reviews are not considered original research.
2. Abstracts submission instructions will be available on ACEP's Web site beginning in March, 2019.
Abstracts must be submitted electronically by 4:00pm Central Time, Thursday, May 23, 2019.
3. Abstracts must adhere to the Annals of Emergency Medicine format with the following subheadings: title, study objectives, methods, results, and conclusion.
4. Abstracts are limited to 3000 characters not including spaces. Accepted abstracts will be published as received; no copy editing will be performed.
5. A small table or figure will be accepted. Figures must be black and white with at least 300 dpi and counts as the 3000 character limit.
6. Authors should not be identified in any way on the page containing the abstract.

45 EMRA years

established 1974

That's how long EMRA has supported physicians like you with resources in emergency medicine. You are the doctors on the front lines, holding hands and saving lives.

1974 Joseph F. Waeckerle, MD and others had an idea to form an organization for emergency medicine residents. EMRA was born.

1975 Residents joined this new organization for $15. By the end of the decade, EMRA boasted 269 resident and 14 medical student members.

1982 EMRA officers manned a booth at Scientific Assembly that featured a bulletin board with job opportunities.

1988 Hurricane Gilbert hit Jamaica. EMRA members secured and transported medical supplies to Montego Bay.

1994 EMRA hosted the first Medical Student Forum. Membership soared to 2,581.

2000 Membership explodes to 4,320. By the end of the decade, another 2,145 were added to the EMRA membership roster.

2005 Hurricane Katrina strikes the U.S. Gulf Coast. EMRA collected textbooks for residents and medical students to replace those lost at LSU and Tulane University.

2013 EMRA debuted the landmark documentary, 24/7/365 – The Evolution of Emergency Medicine. The film tells the story of the specialty's maverick founders.

2016-PRESENT Multiple on-shift guides and publications are published including EMRA's EM Fundamentals, EKG Guide, and EMRA and ACMT Medical Toxicology Guide. Membership exceeds 15,000 and EMRA now funds 111 leadership positions.

POWERED BY HEALTH ECAREERS

Become an Accredited Geriatric Emergency Department Today

Geriatric EDs promote best clinical practices for older adults and have the potential to improve health outcomes, coordinate care more effectively, and reduce cost of care.

Learn more about accreditation at ACEP.org/GEDA

Apply for ACEP's geriatric ED accreditation program and validate your hospital's commitment to:

- Providing a more positive and sensitive physical environment
- Adopting standardized approaches to geriatric care
- Ensuring optimal transitions of care from the ED to other settings such as inpatient, home, community-based care, rehabilitation or long-term care
- Supporting geriatric-focused quality improvement
