JSID's Fellowship Shiseido Research Grant

The Japanese Society for Investigative Dermatology (JSID) is seeking candidates for JSID's Fellowship Shiseido Research Grant. This research grant is intended to promote innovative research that will contribute to the progress of cutaneous biology. This research grant is aimed at researchers working in the following fields: (1) skin aging, (2) keratinocyte biology, (3) pigment cell biology, (4) hair biology, (5) cosmeceuticals, and (6) all the basic research areas related to (1)-(5), e.g. immunology. This research grant is given to two members of JSID. The 1,000,000 yen award is given to each recipient. Those who need more information about this research grant, please contact the JSID office at office2@jsid.org.
