Message from APIC

New year. New beginning. New chapters!

The beginning of the year is often a time of change, bringing new resolutions and fresh beginnings. One constant is the presence of change; no matter what 2019 brings, you're going to need to stay ahead of the curve in IPC. And one change that can help you achieve this is that the APIC Text of Infection Control & Epidemiology is now available exclusively as a digital resource.

The APIC Text Online (ATO) is the updated, online version of APIC's publication, the APIC Text of Infection Control & Epidemiology, which is no longer available in print. The ATO contains 120 chapters covering the latest guidelines, research, technology, and clinical standards, providing you with the necessary knowledge and tools for effective IPC at your facility. These peer-reviewed chapters are regularly updated, giving you access to the most current information in IPC.

Because the content is completely searchable and available on all digital platforms, you can access vital infection prevention practices at a moment's notice. Whether at your computer or on your phone, you can find the information you need to keep your patients safe anytime and anywhere.

Benefits of the online platform include:

- Easy searchability: Use the Search Bar to search by topic and find multiple pages of relevant content quickly and easily.

- Regular updates: Stay current with the online platform, which allows the ATO to be more responsive to changes in the field. Updates are published as new standards and regulations are adopted.
- Increased accessibility: Read the APIC Text when and where you need to—on your computer, tablet, or smartphone.
- Printability: Print any chapter on demand using the "Print full chapter" feature.

The ATO keeps you at the leading edge of IPC, giving you the tools, resources, and evidence-based practices that help you manage change, understand regulatory updates, and protect your patients and facility. Prepare for the future by making a resolution now to stay updated on the best IPC practices. Get your annual subscription to the ATO today!

The ATO subscriptions are available for individuals and institutions, to suit the need of your team or facility size, and members can access discounted rates!
