

Chest x-ray quiz

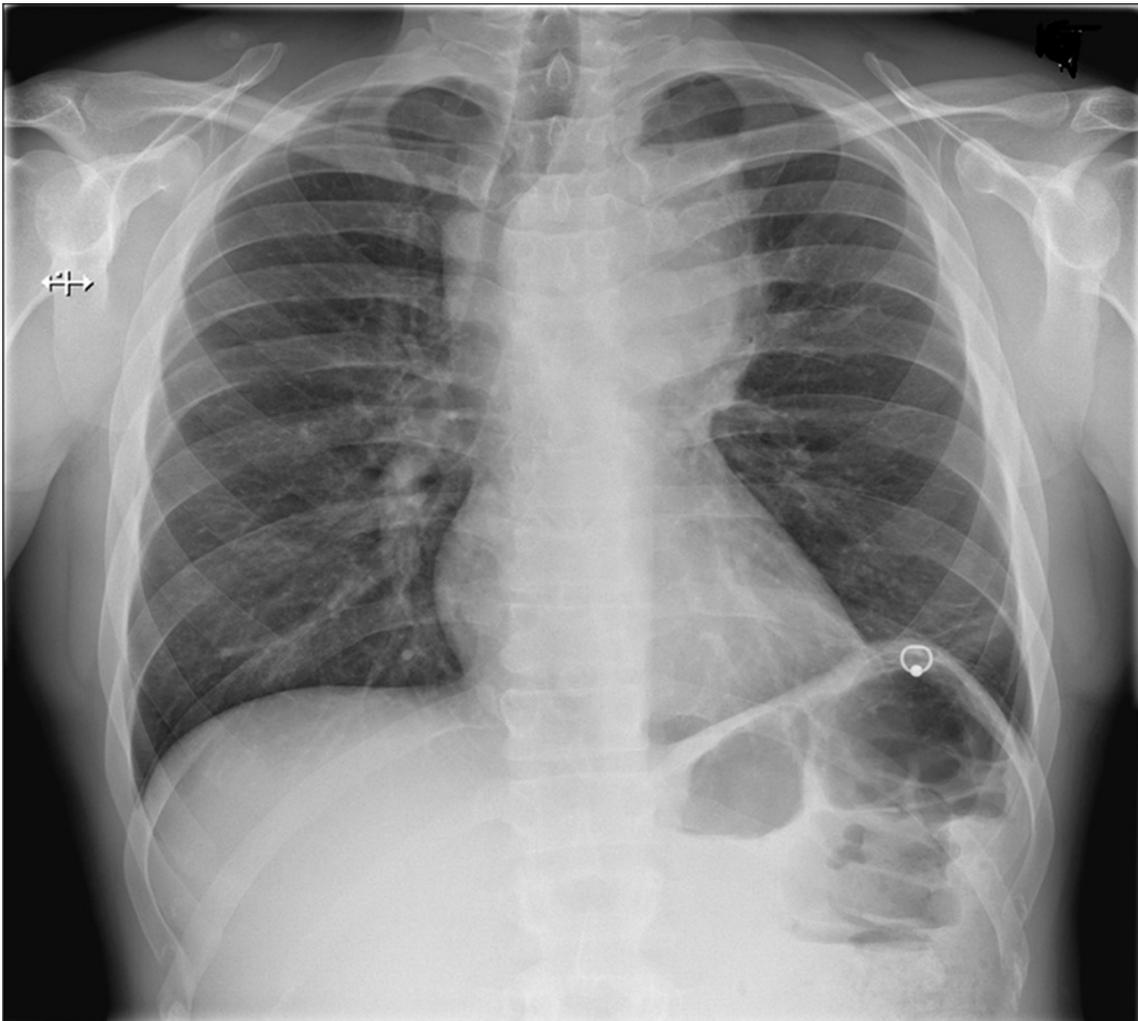

Question

Compiled by Marea Reading RN, Consultant Cardiothoracic Nursing Education, Sydney, NSW

Question

This is a posterior-anterior (PA) erect chest X-ray of a 34-year-old man who presented to Emergency Department with breathlessness and nausea. Six weeks prior to this presentation he was hit by a car on a pedestrian crossing. Following the accident he felt fine and therefore did not seek medical attention.

What observations can be made? What is the likely problem?

Answer and Discussion for the Chest X-ray Quiz is in page 54